

Asian Clam

Corbicula fluminea

Invasive Species

Characteristics

- Shells greenish-yellow to brown with thick concentric rings
- Thick symmetrical shell
- Up to 2 inches (5 cm) long
- Inside of shell is smooth and polished with a light purple tinge
- Three cardinal teeth in each valve

Habitat

- Large rivers and lakes
- Clams burrow prefer sandy or silty sediments into which they burrow up to 6-8 inches

STOP AQUATIC HITCHHIKERS!

Prevent the transport of nuisance species.
Clean all recreational equipment.
www.ProtectOurWaters.net

1-877-STOP-ANS